

Food Security MERIT – The Moshe Mirilashvili centerER In the desert

Call for Applicants MERIT Fellowship 2022

REF: MERIT Fellowship 2022

Deadline for submission: 01-01-2023

Overview

The “Moshe Mirilashvili Center for Food Security in Drylands” is announcing the second call for the MERIT fellowships for the academic year 2022-2023 to support graduate students (master and Ph.D.) who study food and water security in arid environments.

Fellowship Amount

1800 USD

Eligibility

The proposals should be submitted by 2nd year MSc students or 3rd /4th year Ph.D. students. The candidates should engage in water or food security studies for semi-arid and arid land application, management, or degradation.

Guidelines

Please fill this form in every part. You will be requested to upload a file with a few documents (transcripts, research summary, and CV). Please make sure that the file will be named with your name as requested. Example: AlbertEinstein-Uploads.

For your Research Summary (max 2 pages), please follow the instruction:

- Your name, the title of your research, your advisor(s) name(s), and your affiliation
- Background (up to 150 words)
- Project significance for Food and Water Security (up to 150 words)

- Scope and objective (up to 150 words)
- Results (up to 2 graphs)
- Expected research achievements (up to 150 words) For your Short CV (one page), please follow the instruction:
  - Education table (dates, affiliations, and grades)
  - Awards and distinctions, if applicable
  - Conferences attended

Evaluation

The proposals will be evaluated by the Fellowship Committee based on the relevance of the research to the call, academic excellence, and interdisciplinarity.

Announcement

Mirilashvili fellows will be announced in January 2023 and awarded the fellowship during the 2nd Moshe Mirilashvili Food Security Mini-symposium, February 2023, in which recipients will be expected to give a brief presentation of their research (max 3 min).

For any questions, contact us at foodsecurity@bgu.ac.il

