

Center for the Study of Rationality, Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Center for Decision Making and Economic Psychology (DMEP), Ben Gurion University of the Negev

In light of the similar research topics of groups in the two centers, we wish to initiate a tradition of holding two meetings per academic year (one at HUJI the other at BGU), each focused on a selected topic. We aim to bring together researchers and graduate students interested in the study of social and economic judgment and behavior, to increase potential collaborations among people sharing similar research interests. The invitation to participate however is not restricted to members of these centers but rather open to researchers from any institute. Registration by email (sshalvi@bgu.ac.il) is required as available places are limited.

Dates and location: The first meeting will be held on Thursday December, 6th at DMEP (BGU) focusing on "Temptation and Moral Behavior: Psychological and Economic perspectives". The second meeting will be held on Thursday April, 25th at the Center for the Study of Rationality (HUJI) focusing on "The origins of cooperation and generosity: an experimental approach". Speakers interested in presenting at the second meeting are welcomed to contact the organizers (Ilana Ritov ilana.ritov@huji.ac.il; Amos Schurr samos@post.bgu.ac.il or Shaul Shalvi sshalvi@bgu.ac.il).
